

Metta Pracutti

Sreeju Radhakrishnan
We are not crossing the river, 2024
Oil on canvas
Courtesy of the artist

Metta Pracutti (founded in 2025, Bombay) is a collective led by artist, curator, and cultural activist Prabhakar Kamble. Inspired by the ideals of B.R. Ambedkar, an Indian jurist, economist, and social activist, the group merges practices such as video, woodcut, embroidery, installation, and painting. Their works reflect social realities shaped by existential conditions and highlight the experiences of historically marginalized communities. Metta Pracutti proposes new forms of resistance and believes in art as a tool for building more inclusive cultural, social, and political futures.

The collective is composed by Abin Sreedharan K P, Bhushan Dilip Bhombale, Kumari Ranjeeta, Malvika Raj, Mayuri Madhu Chari, Mohammed Mukhtar Abdul Rauf Kazi, Parag Kashinath Tandel, Prabhakar Kamble, Rajyashri Rose Goody, Ruivah Shimray Zamthingla, Sagar Kamble, Somnath Baburao Waghmare, Sreeju Radhakrishnan, Sumesh Sharma, Tejswini Narayan Sonawane, and Vikrant Vishwas Bhise.

back to top

Home
Artists
News
Events

Invocations
Education
About the 36th

Arizona and Camera
Plain typefaces by Disanto

Portal
Instagram
Facebook
TikTok
YouTube

The title of the 36th
Bienal de São Paulo,
"Not all travellers walk
roads", is made up of
verses by writer
Conceição Evaristo

patrocinio master

patrocínio

apoio

apoio mídia

apoio internacionalapoio
institucionalrealização

Not All
Travellers
Walk Roads
Of Humanity
as Practice